House 3900 Uzès

This modern house sits on the heights of a village with a remarkable natural heritage and boasts panoramic views that can be admired from the inside as well as from the terrace and refurbished pool deck. A single level leads to a vast, light-filled living room with windows opening onto the terrace and comprising a fully-equipped kitchen, a living room and a sitting room with a wood-burning stove. A hallway then leads to three good-sized bedrooms, one of which has an alcove converted into a study from which you can also enjoy the magnificent views mentioned above. The shower room completes the tour of this level, which has a staircase leading to the basement comprising three areas offering additional potential, such as a studio flat. Finally, the grounds of over 1000 m² provide ample parking for three to four vehicles. Double glazing, reversible air conditioning...
