Mas 3845 Barjac

Superb 17th-century farmhouse on the edge of the Ardèche, whose authenticity and renovation are a delight to behold; a setting with a breathtaking view of Mont Bouquet, the Cévennes foothills and Mont Lozère. This residence, nestling in a green setting where cedars, olive trees, cypresses, hackberry trees, an orchard and a rose garden all contribute to preserving a lush natural environment, is made up of several buildings - like a hamlet - linked by a calade (cobble lane). Calm, space, light and a gentle way of life are the watchwords here. On the right as you enter the property, the first building houses two spacious bedrooms (32 m² and 37 m²) carefully renovated in a sober, elegant style. Both have en suite shower rooms and a large, south-facing stone terrace above the 75 m² saltwater swimming pool, with its perfectly landscaped surrounds. The main building features a genuine 70 m² duplex suite (with independent access) with two large bedrooms and a bathroom, all superbly renovated, and extended by a west-facing stone terrace. The living room, from which you can admire the panoramic view thanks to a magnificent steel window and terrace, is elegantly separated from the fully-equipped kitchen by a glass roof. A comfortable lounge with its library and monumental fireplace, three bedrooms and a shower room on the first floor complete the central house. A shaded patio creates a charming transition to the final 46 m² building, featuring a terrace, living room, open-plan kitchen, bedroom and shower room bathed in light.
